

Beauty

skin-care COCKTAILS

Take a shot of antioxidants, a drop

for chronic cases

A new in-office procedure could provide a quick fix for extreme flare-ups. According to N.Y.C. dermatologist Fredric Brandt, the Isolaz device, which combines pulsed light and pneumatic suction, can clear your complexion after just one treatment. "The vacuum cleans out pores and the light kills acne-causing bacteria and controls oil production," he says. Results last for about a month.

BY PATRICIA TORTOLANI
PHOTOGRAPHED BY RYANN COOLEY